TRIMEGA LABORATORIES SHORTLISTED FOR NATIONAL CUSTOMER SERVICE AWARDS 2009

Trimega Laboratories has been shortlisted for the SOCAP Award for Innovation in this year's National Customer Service Awards.

The National Customer Service Awards programme was launched in 1999 to promote excellence, best practice and innovation in customer service. The Awards recognise the most important customer service activities and are open to entries from a broad spectrum of organisations, from the private and public sector.

Trimega Laboratories is shortlisted alongside British Gas, DPD Express Parcel Delivery and Vangent Ltd, with the Awards Ceremony taking place on 9th December at the Grosvenor House Hotel, Park Lane, London.

Avi Lasarow, managing director of Trimega Laboratories, commented:

"The fact that our Client Service team is now recognised as a UK national finalist confirms that Trimega Laboratories not only develops innovative products to support child protection cases but it also underpins our exemplary delivery. Often the courts have strict deadlines to keep when dealing with children at risk and this contributes to the way our team handles all cases with speed, accuracy and total professionalism."
